

Apptio and Cprime Announce Partnership to Drive Digital Transformation Through Enhanced Agile Practices

Companies combine forces to help customers achieve organizational agility through end-to-end visibility and delivering a single source of truth for decision making BELLEVUE, WA – August 15, 2023 – Apptio, the leading technology spend and value management company, today announced an expanded partnership with global full-service consulting firm Cprime. Combining data-driven insights from Apptio Targetprocess's platform with Cprime's knowledge and experience in technology, tooling, and modern ways of working, the partners are bringing to market an offering that will give customers the data visibility to connect IT investments to business value — enabling them to prove the value of their transformation initiatives.

Today's macroeconomic climate demands ruthless efficiency and cost management in virtually every area of the organization to deliver maximum value. Companies are also striving for better situational awareness, constant innovation, and positive experiences that generate customer loyalty. But without alignment to strategic priorities across all digital transformation initiatives, many are finding it difficult to meet business outcomes while achieving budget and resource predictability and ensuring maximum ROI. The Apptio-Cprime partnership aims to bridge this gap.

Utilizing insights from Apptio Targetprocess and guidance from Cprime experts, customers can expect to improve efficiency metrics across the board: by up to 50% in business outcome predictability, up to 90% in forecasting accuracy, and up to 50% in time to market.

"Change is the only true constant in business today, so it's paramount for organizations to adopt modern ways of working across business and technology to align investment decisions to business outcomes," said Ajay Patel, Chief Customer Officer, Apptio. "However, true agility typically requires significant digital transformation. By joining forces, we can help enterprises address the fundamental issues they face in making transformation projects a success. We look forward to working closely with Cprime to bring the business and technology sides of organizations together through common goals, shared knowledge, unified ways of working, universal metrics and collective value."

"In today's rapidly changing landscape, shifting from project- to product-centric thinking is not a choice but a necessity," added Zubin Irani, Chief Executive Officer, Cprime. "Cprime and Apptio are uniquely positioned to bring together product, technology, tools, process, and funding, allowing customers to optimize their investments, innovate, and adapt to change on their journey to true agility."

Today's announcement comes on the heels of newly launched Apptio Targetprocess solutions designed to accelerate organizations' Agile transformation and enable greater business agility. The new solution templates allow organizations to transition from project-based funding to product-based funding and adopt the latest SAFe 6.0 framework while leveraging Apptio Targetprocess's market-leading budgeting and financial management capabilities.

Apptio will demo the new solutions at the upcoming SAFe Summit in Nashville, TN, on August 15-18, 2023. Apptio and Cprime also will be hosting an in-person Lunch and Learn session at the Summit at noon on August 17. The session, called "Partnering with Finance in Your SAFe Adoption Journey: Utilizing Participatory Budgeting for Informed Decision Making," will give attendees the chance to discover the benefits of collaborating with finance teams during an Agile transformation and how to leverage SAFe 6.0 to drive successful adoption, make informed value planning decisions, and ensure confident value realization assessments.
